SAN FRANCISCO, CALIF.— BPM announced today Kemp Moyer has joined the Firm to help manage its Valuations & Appraisals practice.

“We are delighted to welcome Kemp to the team at BPM,” said Edward Webb, BPM Advisory Partner and Corporate Finance group leader. “He has the type of technical skill and market presence that will help us grow the Firm’s Valuations practice.”

Moyer has more than 12 years of experience in Valuations and Financial Advisory services at companies in the Bay Area. He joins BPM after serving in the CFO Advisory Services/Valuations practices at Armanino LLP and Financial Strategies Consulting Group.

While building his impressive career in financial services, Moyer – an East Bay native – also coached football at Alameda High School. The experience on the field reflects his overall dedication to teaching and mentoring, which is also well-present in the office.

“I’ve always been passionate about mentoring individuals and helping teams develop, along with my passion for providing high impact to clients,” said Moyer. “I look forward to helping lead and develop a team that has a great vision for growth, while providing tailored services that have a high impact on our clients’ business interests and overall wellbeing,” he added.
